INSURGENTS CONCENTRATE.

It is Expected That They Will Make Resistance at Montalban and San Mateo—
Severe Fighting North of Iloilo.

Manila, Nov. 23. 12.50 P. M. The insurgents from the north are concentrating at Montalban and San Mateo, where it is expected they will make resistance. The Spaniards never occupied these places and the insurgents believe them to be impregnable.

A reconnaissance to the northwest of San Mateo on Tuesday, developed the fact that the rebels were moving scores and men to Montalban. The number of the insurgents is unknown.

A reconnaissance made Wednesday shows that 200 rebels are entrenched at San Mateo and Marikina in the valley between them and Marikina where 300 rebels are stationed.

Gen. Young entered San Mateo last September and found the place not especially adapted for a strong resistance.

SEVERE FIGHTING.
Manila, Nov. 23.—10.30 A. M. Severe fighting north of Iloilo began Tuesday. Four Americans were killed and 25 were wounded, including three officers. The insurgents are retreating to Santa Barbara, but the fighting continues.

BODY OF MAJ. HOWARD.
San Francisco, Nov. 23. On board the transport Belgian King, which arrived early today from the Philippines, is the body of Maj. Guy Howard, of Omaha, who was killed Oct. 21. He was passing up the Rio Grande river near Araya, in a launch when he was shot by a native concealed along the stream. He was a son of Maj. Gen. O. O. Howard, retired. The body was sent to Omaha for interment.

THE BOERS ARE ACTIVE.

London, Nov. 23. The fact that fresh portions of Natal are being overrun daily by the Boers is producing consternation in that colony and intense humiliation to Great Britain, where the idea of a possible extensive violation of British soil was contemptuously dismissed in the early stages of the war.

Operators on the Stock exchange here are becoming nervous and the continued fall in consols exemplifies the restlessness of the market. The rumor that a peace deputation from President Kruger is on its way to Cape Town for the purpose of ascertaining the terms upon which an immediate cessation of hostilities could be secured, are discredited here, and it is said that if such a deputation has been sent it will meet with scant courtesy, as those who are conducting the war, it is added, will be satisfied with nothing less than dictating terms of peace to Pretoria, after a parade of British strength throughout the Transvaal.

In the meantime from the scanty and emaciated dispatches which are dribbling from the front, it is difficult to form an opinion of the true situation. The Boer invaders are occasioning serious surprise. They have already cut off two portions of the Ladysmith relieving force from their base of supplies and, with great rapidity, are advancing on Pietermaritzburg with howitzers and other artillery. Gen. Clery's situation, it would appear, must be becoming intolerable, so serious fighting may be expected at any time, as it is pointed out, the general must clear his line of communication in order to complete the concentration of his relieving force.

According to the latest reports from Natal, the artillery duel was recommenced Thursday morning at Mool river.

The British transports Pavia and Cephalonia arrived at Durban Thursday with about 3,000 troops, making the total arrivals of the first division 11,500 men. Another 4,000 are expected within a few days.

KAMEROON SCANDAL.

Berlin, Nov. 23. Investigation shows that the facts in the Kamerun scandal made public by the Tagblatt, Nov. 18, when that paper said an apparently corrupt deal had taken place by which the chief of the Colonial department, gave away 80,000 square kilometers of Kamerun soil, estimated to be worth about 40,000,000 marks to various high personages for exceed the Tagblatt's story.

RECONNOISSANCE IN FORCE.

Kimberley, Friday, Nov. 17. By despatch rider to Orange River, Nov. 22. "There was a reconnaissance in force this afternoon in the direction of Alexander's farm, below Beaufort West. Detachment of British mounted forces with two Maxim and two field guns, under Maj. Scott Turner and Capt. May, respectively, together with the Beaufort West town guard which helped support the guns, found the Boers, numbering 250 in a kloof on the Alexander's farm.

"The only British casualties were the wounding of Capt. Boyle and the killing of two horses. The Boers continue disquieting."

A BOMBARDMENT.

Mool River, Natal, Nov. 23. 10 A. M. The Boer guns began to shell the camp at 8 o'clock Thursday morning. The British artillery is in position on high ground to the east, west and north of the station. The artillery duel was continued until 8 when it ceased for an hour. The Boers recommenced at 9 and dropped 30 shells into the camp. They are still firing at intervals, with no damage, although their aim is good. A parcel of Maxim's rifles has returned from the direction of Rorodita and reports all quiet there.

CONDENSED NEWS.

Head Coach Rodgers of the Yale football eleven Thursday morning, speaking of the prospects of the coming championship game between Yale and Princeton, made the following statement:

"We make no predictions as to score or as to the outcome of the game. Yale will play a good game, we are confident, and we anticipate a stiff game from Princeton. We expect a different style of game from that played by Harvard, because Princeton's playing has been of a different brand of football. The eleven of Yale is in fine physical condition and will enter the game in excellent condition. The eleven will face Princeton just as it entered the Harvard game, except this: Yale will be at the end of the place of Princeton. There is a possibility of one change but I cannot say definitely now."

It is reported in New York that "Kid" McCoy, the pugilist, who is matched to fight Peter Maher in December, has broken down.

Brig. Gen. Fanning, in a stent article, denies the statements that he had been guilty of looting Roman Catholic churches in the Philippines.

James McManis, who for many years was the acknowledged Republican leader of Philadelphia, died Thursday in his 81st year. During the period of his active participation in politics, Mr. McManis was president in the national as well as local councils of his party. He organized the People's bank and was its president until its failure nearly two years ago. His cashier, John Hopkins, had committed suicide. With the affairs of the bank in a very much involved condition and owing considerable money, the veteran leader, then feeble and as many believed near death's door, took from his private fortune over $500,000, reimbursed depositors and other creditors and closed the bank's doors forever without its owing a dollar.

A despatch from Cairo states that Gen. Wingate, with an Egyptian force, moved from Fakiki Wednesday to attack the force of Ahmed Pasha, 25 miles from the river Nile. The British (Gen. Kitchener) was telegraphed to Lord Cromer, the British minister, as follows: "Ordnance, Nov. 23. Wingate found Nefisa, a woman, pushed on to Abadiya, four miles further and found Pasha's forces encamped. They were forthwith engaged by the mounted troops under Mahon with four Maxim guns, and the Dervishes charged with all their old dash, to within 30 yards of the guns. Wingate with the infantry arrived in time to support Mahon and cleared the whole camp. The Dervishes bolted through the bush, pursued by mounted troops. Wingate estimates Pasha's forces at 2,500 men, of whom 400 were killed. Wingate captured many prisoners, grain, rifles and spears. The Egyptian casualties were three wounded."

Charles E. Stewart, who was arrested in Pittsburgh, and Wednesday brought to Worcester on a charge of having uttered a forged check by which he obtained $3,000 from the First National bank there, was arraigned Thursday. He entered a plea of not guilty and waived examination. He was adjudged probably guilty and bound over to await the action of the grand jury.

Treasurer Parham's annual report to the Yale corporation makes a statement in which appears a general balance sheet covering the 15 years of the Dwight administration. It shows a growth of the Yale funds during the time of from $2,160,690 to $4,823,278. The largest items in the present investments are mortgages, $1,706,448; bonds, $1,652,071; stocks, $254,298, and real estate held for future university purposes, $251,157; these are book values.

The Yale university corporation had its regular fall meeting Thursday. Most of the time was occupied with the consideration of the preliminary plans for the new Memorial hall which is planned to have ready by the bi-centennial celebration in 1901, and the consideration of the recently submitted plan for the consolidation of all athletic interests of the university under a graduate treasurer and the transfer of the Yale field property of a governing board of which the corporation is co-name with the members. The latter matter was approved on its general features. It was voted to bring the new law school building Hendrick hall, in recognition of the donations toward the completion of the building by John W. Hendrick, of the class of 1851, of South Beach, Conn.

SOME STATE CHAT.

When it happens that two men get upon the telephone line and each desires to talk with some third person at the same time, the result is sometimes productive of expressions which would not ornament a Sunday school book. The other day a third man in August started to talk over his line and he had just put the receiver up to his ear when he heard an interesting little episode: "Oh, there, get off this line." "You ought to get off here first." "Oh, but I want to talk with you." "Well, you wait till I get through with you." "I got here first." "Oh, go to the hell." "Have you just returned?" "Well, go ahead and talk," and the first man slammed the phone up with a bang, only to take it down cautiously and listen. The second one started to call up central again and the first one grew mad and went to talking again. By this time the man who was listening broke in upon them and told them both to get away from the phone as he had been waiting for some time, while central rang up Gardner. He assured them it would call them when he was through, and thus the matter ended. Those talks over the telephone never end so peacefully as to come to blows.

Postal clerks have more or less trouble puzzling out addresses, but they always manage to get the package to its proper destination. Often the genius of the who force is called into service in this way of word study. It is next to impossible to phrase the setting clerk at the Waterbury post office when he picks up a letter, the address on which is not plain. He gives a few guesses and then passes it around for other interpretations. Wednesday morning when the clerk found a letter addressed "Therrell, Waterbury, Maine," he simply smiled a few wrinkles, winked one eye and said, "Ah, but you are easy," and flicked it down to Carrier. Probably but few towns in New England have the amount of coal that is yearly brought into Ellsworth, and this amount is growing annually. During the past year it was not an unusual sight to see five schooners, or laden, at anchor, waiting their turn to come to the docks. Away back in the sixties, the coal business of Ellsworth was a monopoly which was controlled by one man, who annually had one small cargo, perhaps 75 tons or less, which after the immediate wants of a few who enjoyed this luxury, were sold, the balance was dumped in his coal yard, to be retrieved during the year. This year about 15,000 tons have been landed in Ellsworth, nearly all of which was for home consumption, and at times, hardly a ton was on hand in the storehouses. Besides this the amount of soft coal landed there at all the factories and numerous steamboats, rolls up into the thousands of tons, which brings Ellsworth well up in the list of small cities as a coal consumer.

Disraeli, it is said, laughed only once in the house of commons. Gladstone had made an impassioned speech in favor of the union of Wallachia and Moldavia. Disraeli pointed out that the result would be the extinction of the independence of these people, and the only thing left would be the removal "which would be painted with admirable eloquence by the rhetorician of the day."

In reply Gladstone said that he would not be guilty of the affected modesty of pretending to be ignorant that that designation, "the rhetorician of the day," was intended for himself. Disraeli interrupted with the remark: "I beg pardon: I really did not mean that." Gladstone's face expressed amazement and indignation, and Disraeli sat down with a satisfied smile that told of his enjoyment.

Mr. Smith has had some idea of going to West Virginia to practice law, but may decide to remain in Waterville.

ROSY COLOR

Produced by Postum Food Coffees.
"When a person rises from each meal with a ringing in the ears and a general sense of nervousness, it is a common habit to charge it to a deranged stomach. I found it was caused from drinking coffee, which I never suspected for a long time, but found that by leaving off coffee that the disagreeable feelings went away.
"I was brought to think of the subject by getting some Postum Food Coffee, and this brought me out of the trouble.
"It is a most appetizing and invigorating beverage and has been of such great benefit to me that I naturally speak of it from time to time as an opportunity offers.
"A lady friend complained to me that she had tried Postum, but it did not taste good. In reply to my question she said she guessed she boiled it about ten minutes. I advised her to follow directions and know that she boiled it fifteen or twenty minutes, and she would have something worth talking about. A short time ago I heard one of her children say that they were drinking Postum now and that it was good. Postum actually does not taste like coffee, as the famous trade mark says." Mrs. Chambers, 9 Franklin St., Dayton, Ohio.
"Tom O'Brien, the son of a friend who lives on Bridge Street, was formerly a pale lad, but since he has been drinking Postum, has a fine color. There is plenty of evidence that Postum actually does not taste like coffee, as the famous trade mark says." Mrs. Chambers, 9 Franklin St., Dayton, Ohio.

Miss Alma Woodbury, who has been visiting in this city left on Thursday noon for her home in Portland.

The Whig received a pleasant call last night from George H. Gilman, Esq., the well known editor of the Houlton Pioneer.

Mr. F. C. Tribble of South Paris, Mr. T. J. O'Neill of Portland and Mr. E. B. Rawling of Worcester, Mass., were registered at the Penobscot Exchange Thursday.

The Maine Society of the Sons of the American Revolution have arranged for a proper observance of the centennial anniversary of the death of General Washington on December 14th in Portland. The society of the daughters of the same ancestry have been extended a special invitation to attend. The exercises will be held in the old First Parish church and the address will be delivered by the chaplain of the society, Rev. George M. Howe of Lewiston, who will be remembered by those who have attended the annual dinners as a man of fine presence, who is a bright and interesting speaker and one who will not doubt be the subject of notice.

There seems to be much activity along the water front just at present in preparation for the closing up of the river, which is liable to close about at any time now, unless old Prob. should decide to give us another open winter. Spar owners are drawing their sticks from the water and piling them on the shores and the drift wood pickers are taking their last chance at getting in their winter's supply. One man says that drift wood is unusually plenty this year, which of course is proof that a large amount of lumber is being sawed at the up river mills. There are a few vessels loading with lumber and they will soon be ready to sail and then, as one lumberman said Thursday, it is doubtful if much more lumber is shipped this year. Now for the boys ice fields.

The Norwegian steamer Michigan, Capt. Olsson, which was in the port of Bangor earlier in the season and which has been in Enosport harbor for the past week taking on school wood for Greenock, Scotland, is not only the largest but the first tramp that ever landed there. Of course the steamers that have at various times made one trip there on profit established lines do not come within the scope of the tramp. The steamer will take from that port about 700,000 spools, consigned to J. P. Cook & Co. of Glasgow, Scotland, shipped by J. A. Cook of Machias, the product of the mills at East Machias, Princeton, Charlotte and other parts of Washington county. The loading of the vessel by means of lighters, the captain having declined to come to the newly constructed railroad wharf, has been fraught with many difficulties, as the facilities for such business are decidedly limited, and the wet weather has interfered greatly with pushing the work even with the means at hand.

The football season in Ellsworth will close on Thanksgiving day with two games. In the morning the high school will meet Hampden, and in the afternoon the Dirigos will play the University of Maine second eleven.

The Edward Little high school team of Auburn is putting in extra hard practice in Thompson field for the game Saturday with Bangor in Auburn. With all their men in good condition they are determined to put up the game of their life. The people who attend the game will never forget it, for it will surely be one of the fastest school games ever played around there. Coach Phillips is putting the men through from low to three hours each afternoon practicing defensive, offensive and signal work. He is being assisted by Sturgis, Bates '99. This will be the penultimate game of the season.

At Hebron Academy the snow has about cooled all the enthusiasm over foot ball, as the boys did not don their suits at all last week owing to this condition. The practice has been resumed again this week and the boys are getting into the best shape possible for the game with Thornton.

MEN PROMINENT IN STATE AFFAIRS.

F. H. PARKHURST, Esq., Member of Last House.

AT AUBURN.

Bangor Boys Will Play Edward Little Team.

How Our Boys Will Line Up—Manager Wellman Negotiating For a Game at Maplewood, Thanksgiving Day.

The championship foot ball game of the Maine High schools will be played at Auburn on Saturday. The contestants will be the teams from Bangor High school and the Edward Little High school of Auburn and a pennant, offered by the Colby College Athletic Association is the trophy for which the struggle will take place.

Several whips since the same teams met at Maplewood park and played a tie game, the score standing 6 to 6. The contest on Saturday will undoubtedly be a hot one, though the Bangor team is greatly weakened by the loss of Bailey and Porter. The men have been working well and the team which will go to Auburn will do their best to win. The line-up will probably be as follows:

H. C. Drummond; R. E. Dugan; R. E. Cassidy; C. Hilton; I. G. Bacon; I. T. Maxwell; L. L. Libby; G. B. Stevens; R. B. Smith; L. B. D. Toole; F. B. Kane.

Manager Wellman is negotiating for a game to be played here on Thanksgiving day. Letters have been written to managers of the Colby and the Skowhegan High school teams, but no arrangements have yet been made. It is probable, however, that one of the other of the teams will accept the offer.

A game on Thanksgiving day, will attract a large crowd of foot ball enthusiasts.

IT'S PITCHER.

Coburn and Waterville High school will come together again this season at W. H. S. has lost four of her best men through an injury recently issued by Principal Nelson that boys must be good boys who attend his school. That is good, in their school room department. Under these circumstances the odds seem to be in Coburn's favor and she may well be called the "champion" fitting school team of Waterville till her title is successfully disputed.

HOW TO DISINFECT.

Instructions on the Subject From The State Board of Health.

A circular of the State Board of Health gives instruction on disinfecting in case of contagious disease and it advises that the disinfection be entered upon at the beginning of the illness of the patient and continued until they are well and the final disinfection begins.

A few of the suggestions are:
The work of disinfection should begin with the beginning of the treatment of the case and should continue during the whole course of the disease. All articles of bed clothing and of body clothing should be disinfected as soon as they are removed from the bed or from the patient. No bedding or other property of value should be burned or otherwise destroyed if it can be avoided.

"Steam disinfection or disinfection by boiling should be employed so far as these methods are applicable and practicable. Boiling one-half hour will disinfect any article that can be subjected to it. Steam disinfection, properly done, is just as trustworthy and has the advantage of wetting the goods less.

"Steam disinfection on a small scale can be done in the common wash boiler by supporting above the water with two bricks or otherwise, a false floor of laths or thin board. Pour in two or three inches of water, place the articles to be disinfected above the false floor, put on the cover and steam one hour after the water begins to boil, keeping the water briskly boiling all the time. After the steaming, carry the boiler into the open air and throw the things over a line to dry.

"The utmost care should be taken with the clothing of the patient. Do not carry it from the sick room dry. In transporting it from the sick room for disinfection wrap it in a sheet wet in a carbolic acid solution or in water.

"Rooms—After the infected things have been sorted out and disposed of as in the preceding, disinfected rooms with formaldehyde. If that is not available wash all surfaces with a disinfecting solution, carbolic acid, lysol or corrosive sublimate. Surfaces or parts of surfaces that may have become soiled with sputum should be gone over very thoroughly. Floors, particularly, should receive careful treatment and the solution should reach and wet the dust and dirt in the cracks. The ceiling may be brushed with a damp cloth to remove infectious dust and stray cobwebs. The walls should be wiped carefully with a sponge or cloth squeezed out of a disinfecting solution. If the walls are papered it will be a case of injured walls or incomplete disinfection.

"With the cloth dampened in the solution wipe the dust carefully from all horizontal or other surfaces that can harbor it, furniture, mouldings, doors, windows, etc.

"Personal Disinfection.—After the period of desquamation has fully passed, the patient should receive a bath, during which the whole surface of the body should be scrubbed with hot water and soap. This should be followed by sponging with a formaldehyde or carbolic acid solution, the hair being included. When nurses and other attendants of the sick are leaving the hands, face and beard should be washed in a disinfecting solution.
